NEW TWIST TO GET YOUNGER RIDERS GOING AS CAROLE NASH OFFERS MOPED COVER FOR 16 YEAR-OLDS

Ireland's leading motorcycle insurance specialist has stepped in to help young riders take advantage of the low running costs and convenience of mopeds.

Responding to growing demand for lower capacity motorcycles and the poor availability of insurance for younger riders, Carole Nash has launched a new policy which will cover bikers aged from 16 upwards.

The company, which claims around 50 percent of the Irish motorcycle insurance market, has also secured new rates from its underwriters in a bid to make cover for 50cc bikes even more affordable for riders generally.

Explaining the move Nick Baker, Carole Nash's director of products and marketing said: "There has been a growing trends towards the use of lower capacity motorcycles because they are cheaper to run. They cost less to tax, offer great fuel consumption and are good for navigating on Ireland's increasingly congested roads. However younger riders have often found it difficult to get insurance. We're keen to address that because mopeds, scooters and biking generally has to be the way forward, economically and environmentally, as the roads become ever more clogged and petrol increasingly expensive."

In addition to promising highly competitive premiums and cover for commuting to work or college,<sup>2</sup> Carole Nash is including a host of handy benefits as standard with the new policies. These will include its recently launched Carole Nash DNA+<sup>1</sup> forensic coding security system – supplied free but worth €35 – as well as Irish, UK and European breakdown cover and foreign use. Also included is up to €100,000 in Motorcycle Legal Protection insurance which can be used to recover any uninsured losses should you be in an accident which is not your fault.
